GEO. W. & G. G. BENEDICT,

Editors & Proprietors THE GREAT RESULT.

The election is over. The great civil struggle of the Nation is ended and the loyal men of the country have won a victory at the ballot box, which will tell against the rebel cause with fittal effect. No more foreible blow has been struck by our brave armies in the field, since the rebellion broke out than DEFE.IT OF FER.V.INwas struck at the polls Tuesday. It may take a day or two to determine the result in three or four States that have been put down as doubtful ever since the nominations were made. But as to the main result, the election of LINCOLN & JOHNSON by a great majority, not a doubt remains. We think this result has been foreseen by the most sugacious of the copperhead leaders for some weeks past as almost inevitable; and that all their predictions to the contrary, have been no better than bold lies to keep the courage of the less knowing ones of the rank and file up to the fighting mark. The wave of rebe sympathy has now spent its force. It will never mount so high again. This the rebel leaders know and their hearts will faint as power and influence, will som know also. 11 more Lincoln Electors. the rebel weakness allows us to expect, we State but Kentucky and New Jersey. > MONTHEAL, Y. 3. The hearing before Judge Coursel open-od this morning. Mr. A. Sowies, cashier of the National Bank has been on the stand all day. He ilentified three of the raiders, Waliace, Bruce and McGroty, as among the parties who threatened him with pistols and robbed the bank. The counsel for the prisoners interposed all the delays possible and the besting promises to be a tedious affair. It the prisoners are committed by Jugde Course. as they will be, a baleas corpus will be plen before a higher court which will further protract the final decision. I understand there can be no appeal in be half of the raiders across the water. The man arrested, at LuColle, has not been idea tified as a raider. MONTHEAL, NOV. 4. The direct testimony of Mr. Sowies was concluded vesterday, together with a partian of the testimony of Mr. Whitman, the Stanbridge magistrate, who testified to the capture of six of the raiders, whom he identified, and profuced the money taken from them amounting to about 55,900, a portion of which was identified by Mr. Sawles as stolen from the National Bank.
